Safety Forms

Safety Forms are an aid to standardize the entry of Safety data. Safety Forms issued from Safety rules are considered as being part of these Safety rules and therefore are MANDATORY. The other Safety Forms are not part of the Safety rules, but their use is strongly recommended.

Entry permit for work in a confined space

Fire Permit

The FIRE PERMIT is drawn up in order to prevent the risk of fire or explosion created by ‘hot’ tools (mainly welding torches and electric arc-welding equipment). For every item of work of this kind, the person who execute it must be an authorised operator and must be in possession of a properly completed and signed FIRE PERMIT. It does not apply to work done at permanent workstations at CERN. CERN's endorsement does not in any way release the operator from his responsibilities.

This Safety Form is to be completed by the organiser of an event to inform the HSE Unit and provide the data needed for defining security requirements.

To help you in organising your event, the Safety Guide "15 key issues to address the safety aspect of your event" is available on the official website of safety rules (https://edms.cern.ch/document/1274277/4).
